

CASA DE SIERRA NEVADA

the cathedral and city square in the heart of historic San Miguel de Allende. Cool, leafy gardens offer a backdrop to nine colonial mansions, connected together by covered al fresco corridors. Charming rooms and suites featuring white stucco walls, curved ceilings and wood burning fireplaces evoke a feel of authentic “old Mexico”. The walls are accented with original paintings by local artists, while hand woven throws and rugs add warmth and texture to the décor.

The Laja Spa is a haven of purification and rejuvenation, with a range of treatments, including The Temazcal, which combines indigenous chants, medicinal herbs and Mayan incense to create a spiritual adventure leaving guests forever changed.

This exquisite preserved piece of history is sited for guests to enjoy the attractions of San Miguel de Allende, drawing visitors from around the world to enjoy its temperate high desert climate, observe its bullfights or visit artists’ studios while wandering along cobblestone streets lined with centuries old palacios, many now converted into restaurants, galleries and boutiques.
