Island Destinations Launches New Product Line with All-Inclusives

July 15, 2011 11:14 AM

Island Destinations launched a new product line called IDx. The Power of Travel, which features a selection of vacation resorts and hotels, many all-inclusive, from hotel groups including AMResorts, Karisma Hotels, Melia Hotels and Sandals Resorts in the Caribbean, Bahamas, Mexico and Costa Rica. The company intends to expand to other destinations in the near future. The brand will pay 16 percent commission as an introductory incentive for all bookings through Sept. 2 for travel anytime.

IDx is part of ID Travel Group which includes Island Destinations, The Authority for Luxury Travel and is spearheaded by President and CEO Maurice Bonham-Carter and COO Laurie Palumbo. The product team at IDx reviewed each hotel and resort against strict criteria, selecting only those meeting its standards within the market space. The line is designed to appeal to clients seeking a premier vacation experience where they enjoy a full range of choices in accommodation, dining, relaxation, and activities in one surrounding.
